

THE CITIZEN

TUESDAY, APRIL 18, 1922.

TO-DAY'S FOOTBALL.

GLOUCESTER v. LYDNEY.

Gloucester visited Lydney to-day for the return match, the fixture arousing great local interest. Casualties in the Bradford game on Monday robbed the City of the services of James and Hughes, whilst Dix was also an absentee.

Gough filled the position of scrum half, but one or two positions behind were not definitely decided upon when the players left Gloucester.

Smart started for the City and they attacked, but Kerwood well tackled Crowther. The Lydney forwards dribbled to the City end, but Adams effected a good save and kicked to touch. Gloucester were penalised, but Vedmore's kick fell short. Brown saved from a rush by the home forwards, and a good round of passing resulted in Kerwood scoring in the corner. The kick failed.
