

GLOUCESTER JOURNAL

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1929

GLOUCESTER'S FIRST DEFEAT.

Gloucester played two matches over the week-end. On Saturday the City made a draw with Bath (3 points each), and lost to Torquay on Monday by 9 points to 4.

James scored for Gloucester against Bath, and E. Stephens dropped a goal against Torquay.

The game on Monday was played in pouring rain, and after the hard grounds previously experienced the players found the conditions difficult.