A month of misfortunes

During the first 10 matches we have shown an unusual lack of constructive Rugby, our play generally has been of poor quality and often lacking in tactics.

It is true that we have had misfortunes through injuries and have been unable to fill these vacancies successfully. The sad thing about it is that if we continue to be unlucky or unskilful we can expect the 'fans' to drift to some other form of entertainment.

Today, we extend to our English friends a very pleasant evening in Pontypool. Past games at Kingsholm and the Park have been some of the most outstanding. We can always rely on Gloucester to provide a good, clean, entertaining feast of Rugby: they put up a fine performance by drawing at Newport two weeks ago.

We hope for a very memorable and enjoyable game.

Good Rugger, boys.
