PITT AND KING UNITED CENTRE PAIR

Centre three-quarter Jeremy Taylor and full-back Mike Tocknell are still unfit and will not be included in the Gloucester United XV which travels to Bath on Saturday.

Taking over Tocknell's full-back duties will be United skipper Peter Hawker, who moves to the "last line of defence" from the back of the scrum.

In the centre, Ron Pitt will be trying out the thigh muscle which he recently pulled and after his brief lay off hopes will give him no further trouble.

Pitt will be linking up in the centre with Jim King who played his first premier XV game after his return to the Gloucester side against Llanelly last Saturday.

The selected side (coach Kingsholm 1 p.m.) is:

P. Hawker (capt.); I. Laurie, J. King, R. Pitt, T. Roberts; D. Ainge, M. Griffiths; J. Herbert, N. Halls, A. Nield, T. Davis, R. Long, R. Timms, H. Simmonds, P. Lane. Reserve[s]: T. Osman R. Fowke.

The first XV home fixture with Bath has been re-arranged for an evening game at the end of the season, owing to the County match at Bristol.
