OFFICIAL PROGRAMME 1/-

Our Visitors . . .

A year ago the Harlequins playing record was 5 losses and 1 draw. Today, in contrast, they are still unbeaten. Gloucester on the other hand will be anxious to return to the winning trail after narrowly losing their unbeaten record to Bedford last Saturday.

Since last season Gloucester have lost the services of Don Rutherford, who is now a master at St. Paul's School. His coaching has had much to do with Gloucester's recent success and we congratulate him on his appointment as Technical Administrator to the Rugby Football Union.

Gloucester has produced many fine players, two of whom were contemporaries of famous Harlequins. Dai Jent, for so many years the highly respected Chief Rugby correspondent of the "Sunday Times", played scrum-half to Adrian Stoop in the first International played at Twickenham, and that fine wing forward, Tom Voyce, was a contemporary of Lord Wakefield in the outstanding England Packs between 1920 and 1926.

Assuming the principal that you do not change a winning team, it is not surprising that today's Harlequin side shows no change from last week.

Q. What do rugby men require ?

A. Rugby men require hands, quickness, feet, togetherness, jerseys, toughness, Twickenham, ambitiousness, supporters, numerousness, tackling, fearlessness, forwards, largeness, scrum-halves, clubs, nippiness, fifteens, harmoniousness, boldness, pubs, gregariousness, boots, and goodness
