

Learning Zone

Below are diagrams of rugby passes from a historic player. You need to measure the angle of each pass. The player is facing in the direction indicated by the dotted arrow. The path that the ball takes is indicated by the solid arrow. Label whether they are acute or obtuse—can you make your own?

Can you name these Gloucester players who are part of the rich heritage of the club? They all played for the club during the 1990s.

