Below is one of the Teek cartoons published in the Gloucester Citizen newspaper to report about Gloucester matches. This particular cartoon appeared in March 1922.

Versus Leicester, March 1922

"For the good of the cause"

Hughes method of carrying the ball on his head fairly beat the Tigers every time.

De Alcock started the game with a kick which ought to have entitled the ball to a bed in the infirmary.

Stanley Cook

Poor Pussie!

Who said I was a tiger?

Tom Voyce, as usual, carried many heavy loads with the air of a man who liked it.
Below is one of the Teek cartoons published in the Gloucester Citizen newspaper to report about Gloucester matches. This particular cartoon appeared in 1927.

GLOUCESTER v. LLANELLY.

By “TEEK.”

Another good win for the Cherry-and-Whites at Kingsholm, the victims being the Sopranites from Llanelli. At their last visit to Kingsholm they brought their Sopran with them and won by five points, but on the present occasion Mari-Ann wouldn't let them have the Sopran. Being very busy cooking the week's supply of leeks & seaweed.

Noticing this, Millington took the ball from them who gave it to Millington who handed it to Millington who passed it back to Millington who gave it to Millington again who put it down in the right place for Millington to convert.

Further scores by Millington and Stephens gave Gloucester the game by 11 points to 6.

During this game the referee, Mr Southby, blew enough wind through his whistle to reach from Kingsholm to the top of Birdlip.
Below is one of the Teek cartoons published in the Gloucester Citizen newspaper to report about Gloucester matches. This particular cartoon appeared in 1925.
Teek cartoons

Below is one of the Teek cartoons published in the Gloucester Citizen newspaper to report about Gloucester matches. This particular cartoon appeared in 1929.