NOTES

After the two fine victories over the Army and Leicester last week, the same team has been chosen for to-day. The Army game was one which will long be remembered, and the Gloucester team rose to the occasion as it has so often done in these special games in the past. Against Leicester it was the defence, who bottled up the home backs, who had most to do with the result, although the whole team played well.

The "Services" are to-day without Vaughan, who is playing for England against Wales, but they have Meredith, the Gloucestershire forward. Their record to date reads: played 27, won 15, drawn 2, lost 10. Points for 350, against 207.

The "United" accomplished a fine performance last Saturday in defeating Oxford, who had several experienced players in their team. The "United" have now practically a settled team and should do well against future opposition. Several of them will be required on February 7th, the County Semi-Final day.
