NOTES

Our visitors to-day re-new acquaintance with St. Helens after a lapse of many years, and we extend them a hearty welcome.

Gloucester started the current season in very ordinary fashion, but have now run into really brilliant form and have a string of noteworthy successes to their credit, including victories over Bristol (11-3), Neath (15-9), Llanelly (23-8).

Outstanding for Gloucester during this season has been W. Hook, at full-back, who is an England Trial player and is considered by many critics as unlucky not to have been "capped." Other personalities are Ken Daniell, at centre, and S. Dangerfield, a very fast wing.

The All Whites, however, continue to add to their remarkable run of successes, and their latest win at Coventry was a first-rate achievement against a "star-studded" combination, including five English internationals. This success, coming on top of Swansea's runaway victory over the Royal Air Force XV at St. Helens the previous week, suggests that the Whites have now run into their best form. Therefore, providing weather conditions are favourable, we hope to see another good exhibition of open football to-day—and may the better side win.

WALES v. FRANCE at Paris

The arrangements are as follows :—

Depart Swansea by coach for Llandowe Airfield morning of 26th March, 1949, flying from Llandowe to Paris. Coaches will meet the party at the Airfield, convey them to a good class hotel in Paris for Lunch, then proceed to the match, returning after match for Dinner. Bed and Breakfast reserved in Paris for that night. Following morning coach will convey party to Airfield, where they will fly back to Llandowe. Further transportation back to Swansea. The inclusive cost of this tour is £15 15s. 0d.
