Captain : _____

It is with great pleasure that we welcome our rivals from Kingsholme this afternoon for what may be termed the recommencement of a season which must go down in the annals of the Club as one of the most frustrating periods ever experienced by the Club in its long history.

Due to injuries and the necessary readjustment in team selection, the players have not been able to strike a winning combination, and the unprecedented hold-up in fixtures has certainly not helped matters.

We feel sure Gloucester will provide stiff opposition today and also prove attractive opponents.

The Whites emerged from the deep freeze with a very impressive win at Stradey last Saturday. It was due to the excellent work of a pack which was ably supported by the half-backs and some strong and effective tackling by the three-quarters. This win should undoubtedly spur the players to greater effort for the remainder of a season which, with a continuance of this form, could yet be more successful than was anticipated.
