OUR VISITORS

This afternoon we welcome the Royal Navy – and, we hope, several rugger enthusiasts who normally find it difficult to visit Kingsholm on Saturdays.

Our lads have already gained resounding victories over the Army and Royal Air Force, and will be anxious to complete a notable “treble” at the expense of the Services.

For their part the Navy, despite a hard game against Bristol under the Memorial Ground floodlights last night, will be equally determined to avenge those defeats by their Service colleagues.

We cannot compare their achievements with those of the Army and the Air Force, as they have not yet begun their inter-service games. Their match at Twickenham against the R.A.F. last Saturday week had to be cancelled because of the blizzard.

The Navy, however, had a splendid win over Hampshire a month ago by 20 points to 8; on this form we can look forward to an interesting and open game this afternoon.
