NOTES

Tonight we welcome again our old rivals and neighbours to what is probably the most keenly awaited match of the season.

This season finds both teams at the peak of their form and a thrilling encounter should be in prospect. Gloucester, with recent wins over Cardiff and Newport, are no doubt confident. In all probability they will also have in mind Lydney's early season defeat at Kingsholm. The most optimistic of our supporters would then have little imagined that by April 1965 we would have so many splendid victories behind us and be on the verge of all time records. Our team, so ably led by John Morris will be keen to add to those honours this evening.

May we appeal for increased support for our Easter programme? No one can deny that the team's performances are richly deserving of this.
