NEWBRIDGE v GLOUCESTER, Tuesday April 23rd. 1968

We extend a warm welcome to our English visitors from Gloucester today, in what will be our last but one match at the Welfare ground for this season. Having lost to Newbridge, 11-9, at Kingsholm, Gloucester will not want to concede the double without providing the strongest opposition, and a fine win over Neath last Sat. will have whetted their appetite. A notable absentee will be Don Rutherford who has broken his arm.

With a convincing win over Pontypool, Newbridge will be content to carry on in their winning vein. The reserves have been tested to the full recently, and they are to be commended on their displays. The Argentine Tour is a matter of speculation amongst Supporters, it is hoped that the selectors do not ignore once again, the continued good form of the Newbridge contingent who are under consideration. The "Sevens" again on Sat. Your vocal acclaim is needed to help your team in this competition.
