OUR VISITORS

This evening we extend a particularly cordial welcome to our long-standing rucker friends, Guy's Hospital, who so kindly agreed to a kick-off at 6 p.m. to avoid the clash of the televised Calcutta Cup match at Twickenham. The visit of Guy's is inevitably an occasion of mixed loyalties for Gloucester's former president, Mr. Arnold ("Doc") Alcock, who won his England cap when playing for the Hospital as long ago as 1907. The genial "Doc", who proudly claims that he is "not so very much younger" than the Gloucester club—which celebrates its centenary in two years—has been looking forward to taking his usual seat and watching his two clubs do battle. No doubt the result he would appreciate most of all would be a high-scoring draw.

Last season it was Gloucester's turn to visit Honor Oak Park, but because of their Hospital Cup commitments—and again the Calcutta Cup game which was televised—Guy's asked to play on the previous evening, Friday, March 20th, 1970. They agreed to visit Kingsholm, and the Cherry and Whites won an entertaining game by 20 points to 6. Bob Clewes, Keith Richardson, Ron Etheridge, Jim Jarrett and Andrew Fielding scored Gloucester's tries, John Spalding converting one and adding a penalty goal

KINGSHOLM KACKLE

It is hoped that tickets will be on sale this evening for the Rugby Union centenary match between the South West XV and the R.U. President's XV at the Memorial Ground, Bristol, on Wednesday afternoon, April 14th. Stand tickets will be limited, but there should be plenty of ground tickets available. These are 30p each.

Next Monday the Cherry and Whites visit the south of the county to meet Clifton at Eastfield Road, Bristol. Then, for the rucker addicts, the short journey to Fromehall Park next Wednesday, March 24th, brings the match between Stroud and Cheltenham. Our own supporters should note that the big attraction at Kingsholm—the game with Newport—is on next Friday evening, March 26th, (kick-off 7 p.m.), and NOT Saturday. This was arranged before the present season started and the switch was made, of course, because of the two international matches next Saturday.

Mike Potter, who broke his collar-bone against the Royal Air Force last week, will obviously play no more rucker this season, but Dick Smith, who injured his knee against Richmond at the Athletic Ground last Saturday, hopes to be fit within the next week.
