MOSELEY v. GLOUCESTER

Although our opponents have been obliged to make a number of alterations in their side because of county commitments we know by previous experience that such is their reserve strength that they are still to be feared when under strength. However, it is regrettable that such fine players as Butler, Bayliss, Redwood, Burton, Brinn and Watkins are absent playing for Gloucestershire, and Palmer playing for Cornwall.

They have a fine playing record, having only lost three of their sixteen matches, their match against Leicester on Saturday last resulted in a 13—all draw.

The Moseley side shows several changes from the one so narrowly defeated by London Welsh. Mick Harris comes in for Malcolm Swain, who is playing in the Welsh Trial, and Alan Hill is standing by as reserve for the London Counties against the All Blacks.

The only change in the pack is that Tim Smith takes over from Barry Ayre after missing a couple of games through injury.

Both Mick and Tim had excellent displays against London Welsh Druids last week, and on present form the latter must have a very reasonable chance of being selected to play against the All Blacks on December 6th. Two other players, Les Smith and John White have been invited to join the Midland Counties' Squad, which now includes 11 Moseley players.

Earlier in the season we suffered defeat at Gloucester by 31 points to 12, after losing Chris Morrell in the opening minutes; Chris has not played since but hopes to be in action shortly. Of the last 16 games between the clubs Gloucester have 7 wins, Moseley 6 wins and 3 draws.
