RUGBY Notes

It's Easter again. Time for hot cross buns, elvers and Gloucester at Regentsholme. For many years, probably as long as 80, this traditional game was played on the Tuesday following Easter but more recently has become a pre-Easter attraction. As ever, it will be a hard and uncompromising encounter with, one hopes, plenty of exciting and running rugby.

Players in both teams generally regard this clash as the last serious rugby hurdle of the season. They know each other well. Indeed, six members of Lydney's team tonight have played in Cherry and White while three of Gloucester's team have played for Lydney and one has captained the Severnsiders!

Ian Wilkins and Colyn Price, opposing each other at outside half, are almost next door neighbours, not that they will be talking over the fence tonight!

The Lydney club would like to add congratulations to Mike Teague, John Gadd, Steve Ashmead and Paul Ford who represented England under 23's against Holland last Saturday. Congratulations also to former Lydney captain Gordon Sargent on his selection for the Barbarians annual Easter tour of South Wales.

A warm welcome this evening also to referee Des Chapman (Army and Hants Societies).
