

GLOUCESTER JOURNAL

SATURDAY, JANUARY 17, 1885.

FOOTBALL.

On Saturday last a match was played at the Spa between Gloucestershire and Somersetshire, and though the ground was in a muddy condition the large concourse of spectators were treated to a fairly fast and exceedingly well contested match.

Early in the game Gloucestershire secured a goal and towards the finish a try was added to the score, and as their opponents failed to make a definite point the home county won by a goal and a try to nil. –

On Monday a team of Irishmen from Queen's College, Cork, journeyed to Gloucester to meet the city team. The home men proved superior at all points of the game, especially in back play, and won by two goals and two tries to nil.