

GLOUCESTER JOURNAL

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1892.

The Week's Sport.

The third match, played on Tuesday, was with the Kent Wanderers, a team little known in this part of the country. They were on tour, and had encountered Redruth and Torquay Athletic previous to coming to this city. The ground, however, was found much too hard to play on, but to prevent disappointment it was arranged to play an exhibition game on the top of the hay. When this announcement became known little interest was taken in the encounter. The City team played in half-hearted fashion, and after a dull game, in which very little scientific play was exhibited, the Wanderers were returned winners by 1 goal to nil.